COMMITMENT

Quinns Rocks Bush Fire Brigade operates 24 hours per day. As a member you will be expected to maintain communication with the Brigade and may receive communications from DFES and the Brigade at any time. You are not required to attend every incident, but you may be rostered on during special family events, public holidays etc.

The constant communications and leaving without notice can cause stress and friction in your relationships. Your family will have to bear with you leaving suddenly and waiting for you to return from dangerous situations with very little information about your welfare.

Have you discussed your commitment to the Brigade with your immediate family/dependants?

Please read the following carefully and tick each to show your agreement.

As a member of Quinns Rocks Bush Fire Brigade I will:

- ✓ Comply with the rules, regulations and laws that govern the Brigade.
- ✓ Show respect to my fellow Brigade members at all times.
- ✓ Publicly support the Brigade and not do anything to bring it into disrepute.
- ✓ Obey orders given to me by officers when conducting Brigade activities.
- ✓ Make myself available to attend fires on a regular basis.
- ✓ Ensure I am not under the influence of alcohol or drugs when conducting Brigade activities.
- ✓ Regularly attend monthly member meetings.
- ✓ Regularly attend training and keep my skills current.

- ✓ I commit to attending the recruit basic training course on – April / May.

Probationary Period

Being a first responder is not for everyone. During your probationary period, you will be monitored to determine if you are a suitable candidate for full Brigade membership. Should we determine you do not meet our standards for commitment and behaviour your probationary period and membership may be terminated without notice.

- ✓ I understand my probationary membership may be terminated without notice if I am deemed unsuitable for the Brigade.
